We need two microphones on stage. 1 for primary vocals and 1 for backing vocals. We assume that the house sound engineer and lighting technician are qualified and serious about their tasks.

Usual equipment:

Vocal: Microphone, the best the house can offer

Guitar 1: Hughes & Kettner Grandmeister 40 tube amp + cabinet with four 12” speakers. 8-string guitar.

Guitar 2: Mesa Boogie tube amp. Mesa cabinet with four 12” speakers. 7-string guitar.

Bass: Darkglass Amp with DI Out in XLR. Speakon connector. Ashdown Bass cab.

Drums: 2 Bass drums, 1 snare drum, 3 cymbals, 4 toms, 1 ride cymbal, and 1 hi-hat. 2x hi-hat (bringing own stand for HH no. 2) 5x crash with boom arm. 1x ride with boom arm! (Bringing own stands)

Intro and effect PAD. Requires stereo line-in cable from stage to mixer (for our sounds/intros)
Minimum 2x power connections on stage for the drums (220v).

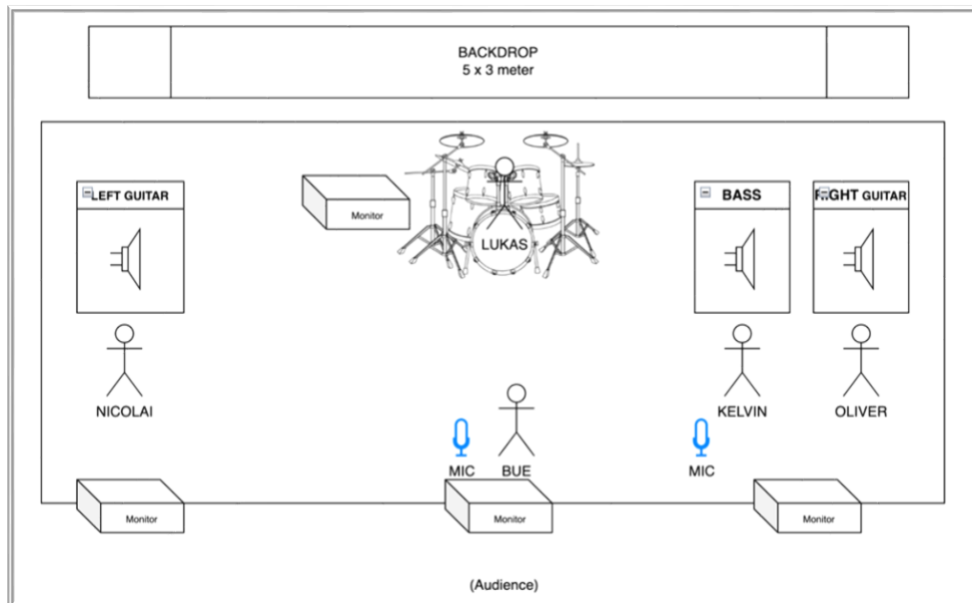

Optional equipment in smaller venues, packing light or on tour :

Guitar 1 : Kemper Player to FOH. 1 XLR out.

Guitar 2 : Neural DSP Quad Cortex to FOH. 2 XLR out.

Bass : Darkglass B7K pedal, to FOH. 1 XLR out.

Drums, vocals and the effect PAD are the same in both equipment scenarios.*

Setup: Guitar 1 on the stage's right side, drums in the middle at the back, vocals in the middle at the front, bass and guitar 2 on the stage's left side. Backup vocals on the left side.

Monitor preferences: One monitor for each musician, with sound from all in each monitor. Additionally, we have a backdrop, and if possible, side drops on stands.

Backline - in case SHADOWSPAWN provides a full backline:

Guitar 1: Hughes & Kettner GrandMeister Deluxe 100 watt, 2 x Orange cabs 2x12, and 1 Orange 4x12

Guitar 2: Mesa Boogie Triple Rectifier 100 watt, 1 Mesa Cab 4x12

Bass: Microtubes 900 v2 amp, 2 x 4x12 Ashdown cabinets (optional Darkglass B7K pedal)

Yamaha RTC drum kit 2x 22" bass drums Toms: 8x8", 10x10", 12x10", 14x12", 16x14"
Gibraltar rack with 10x arms for cymbals

Catering Rider

We have no allergens or similar issues. And no vegans or vegetarians in the band or crew.

We prefer food in the form of standard good meals, meaning meat, vegetables, potatoes, or similar. (Pizza and junk food only if there are absolutely no other options).

Water, local cold beer, and soft drinks (cola-zero). Coffee and milk. Chips and fruit.

Merchandise

If there is no official merch booth available, we would like a table of approximately 1.5 meters along a wall where we can hang up t-shirts. It would be great if there could also be some lighting, such as a spotlight or similar. Preferably in the same room where we are performing, if possible.
